BRIDE THROWS ACID, TAKES POISON

Bernice Day Not Expected To Live; Disfigures Face of Husband

BULLETIN

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—While Bernice Day was dying in a Hollywood hospital from poison she swallowed after throwing acid in the face of her husband, Darby Day, jr., son of the Chicago millionaire insurance company official, police issued a warrant today for the arrest of Mrs. Day's sister, Caroline Lundstrom, charging her with 'aiding and abetting" the alleged acid attack. Miss Lundstrom has been missing since last night. The girl wife's condition was so critical physicians said she would not live through the day.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—Physicians at the Hollywood Community hospital are striving today to save the life of Mrs. Bernice L. Day, bride of a few few months, who swallowed poison after she is alleged to have hurled acid into the face of her estranged husband, Darby D. Day, jr., last night. According to police, it was the second attempt at suicide Mrs. Day made yesterday. Physicians hold no hope for her recovery.

Mrs. Day is said to have gone with her sister, Miss Caroline Lundstrom, to 1121 Alpine street, Beverly Hills, where Mr. Day was living with his mother. Mrs. Day alighted from her sister's automobile and called her husband to the door. The couple entered Mr. Day's car, and, while he was trying to start the car, Mrs. Day is said to have dashed the acid in his face. Physicians who are treating him declared he will lose the sight of one eye, and the right side of his face will be disfigured for life.

After the alleged act, Mrs. Day is said to have gotten into her sister's car and the return trip was started. Shortly after starting, Mrs. Day drained a bottle of poison. Her sister rushed her to the Hollywood Community hospital. Mrs. Day is said to have attempted suicide earlier in the day by jumping from a hill in the rear of Douglas Fairbanks' home.

Marriage Of Couple Surprise To Parents

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—The marriage of Darby Day, jr., and the then Miss Bernice Lundstrom, which yesterday culminated in the acid throwing and suicide attempt at Los Angeles, came as a complete surprise to both families last September 29. No announcement had been made in advance, and it was not until some time after the ceremony that the California honeymoon was arranged.

Young Day was one of the best-known members of Chicago's younger social set. His father, an official of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., several times a millionaire, is one of the most active and prominent insurance men in the middle west.

Darby A. Day, sr., at his offices this afternoon said he would leave tonight for Hollywood.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24. In an unusually frank speech in which he dealt with present day world policies, Rear-Admiral W. W. Phelps, member of the general board of the navy, declared here this afternoon that the United States required a strong navy because British shipping and trade policies so conflict with those of America that only a strong navy can prevent conflict.

The admiral's speech was made before the Women's conference on national defense as peace insurance.

LIEUT. WOOD ON WAY TO AMERICA

Leaves San Sebastian For Madrid To Sail; Friends Offer Fare Home

By FREDERICK ABBOTT
For International News Service.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Feb. 24.—Lieutenant Osborne C. Wood, son of Major General Leonard Wood, whose disappearance from Paris, whose appearance at Biarritz, and whose discovery here has stirred the French capital, caught the 10:52 a. m. train for Madrid today, with the announced intention of returning to America.

"Goodbye, Europe. I'm on my way to America," he shouted, as the train pulled out.

Before leaving, Wood showed a cable addressed to Sidney Schwartzkopb at Manila and costing ninety-three pesetas, advising Schartzkopf not to send any more money because Wood's bank accounts were attached. Wood asked International News Service to take care of his valet.

Clothes Are Soiled

The condition of his wearing apparel was giving Wood his chief source of annoyance today. He is a fastidious dresser, accustomed to three or four changes of clothes daily. When he left Paris, he took with him only a dressing gown, pajamas and toilet articles. His clothes since then, due to a constant rain, have lost their snap.

Friends to Pay Fare

"Look at them," he said ruefully. "Won't you telephone to Paris and have someone go to the Hotel Crillon for me to get some of my clothes?"

Shortly before train time Wood learned from sources he would not reveal, that certain friends were willing to advance him money to pay his passage to America if he promised to leave Europe immediately. Yesterday Wood, discussing his desire to leave Europe for America, said:

"If I had the price of a ticket I'd take the first boat. I'm willing even to work my passage home."

Casino Authorities Undecided On Action

BIARRITZ, Feb. 24.—The secretary of the Biarritz Casino told International News Service today that the Casino authorities had not decided whether to press extradition proceedings seeking the return of Lieutenant Osborne C. Wood to France.

"We have done nothing further about the warrant for Wood," he said. "It is still in the hands of the police. I am going to Paris tomorrow and hope to see some of Wood's friends there."

STATE BUDGET WILL PASS IN PEACE

Suggestions By Governor To Be Approved By State Legislature, Claim

SACRAMENTO Cal., Feb. 24.—Adoption of a budget of state expenditures for the coming two-year period will be the first task undertaken at the final session of the Forty-sixth Legislature, which convened here today, leaders of both agreed.

Although a scramble to get through special appropriation bills is expected after the general appropriation bill has been approved, the fight over the enactment of the budget promises to be a tame affair compared with the partisan skirmish of two years ago.

Governor Richardson's budget recommendations, totaling approximately $101,000,000 net, will go through with only minor amendments, veteran law-makers predicted.

Predict Short Session

An absence of big issue, save for the highway program and reapportionment, was taken by many of the legislators as an indication that the session would be one of the shortest in history.

Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach, speaker of the Assembly, estimated the session would run only seven weeks.

April 14 was fixed by Merriam as the date for adjournment, making a total of seventy days, as compared with 101 days two years ago.

"Every day cut off the session saves the taxpayers $1000," said Merriam, "and there is no reason why the session should be prolonged."

EVANS CLUB TO BE FORMED BY CITY

Loyal Citizens Will Unite To Place Glendale Man In Nomination

All loyal Republicans and patriotic citizens of Glendale are greatly interested in the proposal by The Glendale Evening News that W. E. Evans of this city, friend of President Coolidge and leader in Republican councils, be a candidate for Congress to fill the position to be vacated by Walter F. Lineberger, who is an announced candidate against Samuel Shortridge for the United States Senate.

Those who signed the call published yesterday invite the people of Glendale and its environs to attend the meeting next Friday night at the city hall and participate in the formation of the club.

Interest At Sacramento

That there is considerable interest at Sacramento, where the Legislature is in session, in the candidacy of Lineberger and the proposed candidacy of Evans, is shown in the following dispatch received from the legislative bureau of The Glendale Evening News:

"Considerable talk is heard at the capitol about Walter F. Lineberger's candidacy for United States Senator. Governor Richardson stated that the ninth district congressman will make a good race.

"State Senator A. Burlingame Johnson of Pasadena, commenting on the Lineberger candidacy and The Glendale Evening News suggestion that Attorney W. E. Evans seek the congressional seat, remarked it would give Southern California a strong team.

"State Senator Cadet Taylor of Pomona, who also has a part of the ninth congressional district, believes Lineberger would likely be elected by the former service men.

"Evans is the logical man for his successor 'in the House of Representatives,' Taylor says.

Strong for Evans

"The north, however, is strong for Shortridge, it is pointed out by northern politicians and, coupled with the fact that the present senator is an old-time campaigner, it is claimed that Lineberger has a hard race ahead of him.

"Evans is well known to most of the state officials and Legislature members and those inter-

CRISIS COMES IN ILLNESS OF GLORIA

Condition Serious and Her Recovery Will Be Long Delayed, Predicted

BULLETIN

PARIS, Feb. 24.—Four specialists were called into consultation today at the bedside of Gloria Swanson, confined to a hospital after an operation. Two stood for another operation immediately, but the others decided her weakness made it inadvisable now.

Her husband, the Marquis De La Falaise et De La Coudraye, decided to wait until tomorrow to ascertain the patient's condition, which was very serious.

The marquise was cheerful today and her fever had subsided, but the physicians warned against accepting this as a favorable indication.

Her condition, they said, was extremely grave, and the crisis has not yet been reached in her illness.

She took a turn for the worse last night. Attending doctors predict that it will be at least another month before she can leave the hospital.

Marquis Henri de la Falaise, her youthful husband, who has not slept nor left her bedside for four days and nights, has offered himself for blood transfusion, but his offer has not been accepted and may not be on account of his exhausted condition. He remains constantly at his wife's side. He states that their plans for sailing to America have been indefinitely postponed.

In Serious Condition

Gloria's doctors in consultation last night decided that the crisis would come last night or today and until it is passed Gloria's chance for recovery hangs by a thread. In any case it is now certain that she will not be able to return to pictures for many weeks and many months. It is likely instead, that she will go to the Riviera to convalesce.

Her malady dates from the birth of her child, Gloria junior, 5 years

A deposition of Nathan Burkan, New York attorney and representative of Chaplin in the east, was read into the records by Chaplin's attorneys. Burkan stated that he had talked with F. M. Sanford, who was said to have represented himself as an official of the Western Features Productions, relative to showing some of the Amador productions and after inspecting Amador's advance literature and advertising, had told him his plan was fraudulent and intended to deceive.

20 MILLIONS LOSS LOOMS IN SALARY INCREASE

President And Postmaster In Conference; Various Schedules Decided

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The Senate today passed the civil service retirement bill, increasing the pensions of retired government employes. It is estimated that the increases will cost about $12,000,000 a year.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Conferees on the postal salary and rate increase bill this afternoon completed their work of adjusting differences between the bills passed by the Senate and the House.

The lower Senate rates on newspapers and magazines were retained. They are, first and second zones, 2 cents a pound; third, 3 cents; fourth, fifth and sixth zones, 6 cents; seventh and eighth zones, 9 cents.

The bill was the subject of a White House conference today between President Coolidge and Postmaster-General New.

It developed that the administration is dissatisfied with provisions of the bill which makes the increased salary start on January 1 and the increased postal rates on April 15, leaving a period when there will be additional outgo with no income increase.

$20,000,000 Loss

The postmaster-general estimated that the loss this incurred would amount to about $20,000,000.

Except for second class, the conference retained, with slight parings, the House rates for the other schedules.

Senator Moses, Republican of New Hampshire, chairman, estimated that the bill would raise approximately $61,000,000, about 1,000,000 less than the postal workers' salary advances contained in the measure.

A 2-cent service charge on parcels post packages was kept.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The San Francisco and Los Angeles postoffices continued to report gains in receipts according to a chart of January business compiled by the postoffice department.

The statement revealed that San Francisco had a bigger gain in percentage of business although Los Angeles maintained its lead over the northern city with receipts of $668,345 for the month as compared with $631,593 for San Francisco.

The percentage of increase for San Francisco over the same month of 1924 was 11.33 as compared with 1.19 for Los Angeles. In dollars and cents that amounted to $64,289.54 for the former and $7,894.63 for Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES

By Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—Traffic at Seventh and Figueroa streets was disrupted yesterday when a woman describing herself as Mrs. Sally Lunn, 28, of 1032 Stratmore avenue, rode her bicycle across the intersection while the traffic policeman exhausted his lungs blowing a little whistle to remind her that she had violated several ordinances. Miss Lunn was arrested after she is alleged to have made caustic remarks to a woman pedestrian, kicked the policeman and in other ways created a scene. She is charged with disturbing the peace.

Free bail was in store for the person fortunate enough to be the first arrested and taken to the new police station in division 13 which opened yesterday, C. A. Jones, former police chief and now a professional bondsman, notified Capt. L. L. McClary. A few hours after the offer was made C. W. Thomas, 1224 Maple avenue, was arrested on charges of intoxication. This morning he was still in jail. Jones had not put in his appearance.

The organization formed in 1924 to support La Follette in the presidential race was affirmed as permanent last night at a meeting of the Los Angeles County Progressive central committee and the committees on political action, organization and platform. English Scientist Says Man's Age Exaggerated

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The period hitherto assigned to the evolution of man by scientists—roughly 500,000 years—may have to be recomputed and shortened according to Sir Arthur Keith, famous British anthropologist.

He bases this belief on the fact that recent discoveries have led scientists to think that man is not so very old after all. He says that he has come to the conclusion that the pure negro of Africa is not an old type at all, but of more recent origin. Living men have been discovered recently, he says, who bear resemblance to men whom we had only previously known as fossils.

FINISH PLANS FOR CHURCH BUILDING

Baptist Congregation Gives Trustees Authority To Sign All Contracts

Authorization to sign contracts for the new $150,000 Baptist church was given the trustees of the church at a meeting of the Baptist congregation held last night at the church. The congregation voted unanimously to instruct the trustees to sign the contracts. Ground for the new building will be broken at an early date and it is the plan of the committee to have the new church completed ready for occupancy in eight months. The new pipe organ will be installed when the church is built.

The new edifice was designed by Charles Cressy, of the architectural department of the Roy L. Kent Co. Roy L. Kent is chairman of the finance committee and George H. Bentley is head of the building committee. The site of the new church has a frontage of 142 feet on Wilson avenue and 150 feet on Louise street and includes a lot purchased north of the location of the present building.

The residence purchased with the lot will be moved to the northwest corner of the church site for use as a beginners and cradle-roll department and will be connected to the main building. The new building will be connected with the church now housing the congregation and it will have an auditorium 70x85 feet on the main floor, accommodating 1000 persons, including the capacity of the balcony.

Entrance On Wilson

The main entrance will be at the street level on Wilson avenue. A new entrance will be constructed into the present building, also fronting on the same street. As the auditorium is designed for the same level as the street, no steps will be necessary. There will also be side entrances on Louise street leading into the main auditorium, Sunday school departments and meeting rooms of the church societies allied with the church and the pastor's study.

The plans have been designed with three units, two of which are to be erected. Unit three includes a wing at the northeast of the site planned. Arrangements have been made on the first floor for a church parlor, community hall, reception room and women's parlor with a kitchen and serving annex attached. The present basement will be remodeled and extended to include a social hall 56x46 feet, with kitchen, service and social rooms adjoining. The building will be of class C construction with the main frame of steel and will be of cement textured plastered exterior. The base of the tower will be built at present and the superstructure completed with unit three.

GIRLS WED EARLY FROM CALIFORNIA

Forty Per Cent of Females Marrying Are Between 15 And 20 Years

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 24.—Approximately 40 per cent of California brides during 1924 were between the ages of 15 and 20 years, according to L. C. Ross, chief of the state bureau of vital statistics.

Girls between the ages of 21 and 25 years formed 35 per cent of the remainder in California.

California belles marry at an earlier age than their eastern sisters, said Ross, in explaining that girls in other states marry in the largest numbers between the ages of 20 and 24 years, because the same climatic conditions that contribute to rapid growth and development of all life, vegetable or animal, produce the same results with the human race.

The marrying age of men is later, a majority of husbands appearing in the role of groom between the ages of 21 and 25 years. This is due, said Ross, to the increasing responsibilities of supporting a family in these times.

California Increases Income Tax Payments

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—California increased its income tax payments to the federal government in December 1924 over the same month of the preceding year more than $686,000, indicating, according to treasury officials, the healthy condition of finances in that state.

The return for last December was $16,140,419 as against $15,454,036 in 1923.

The state retained seventh place in the list, being led only by New York, Pensylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan and Ohio.

New York's payments dropped from $103,529,406 in 1923 to $94,548,327 last December.

UTILITY WORKERS MADE TO PAY TAX

Internal Revenue Bureau Is Insistent On Ruling Made Previously

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Despite a strenuous fight by Senator Johnson to secure a reconsideration by the internal revenue service of the ruling that employes of municipally-owned waterworks, electric lighting systems and other activities not strictly governmental must pay income taxes, the bureau today stood by its original decision.

It was announced by Commissioner D. H. Blair that there was no provision in law which would relieve such employes from the payment of income tax.

Johnson had appealed for a ruling which would at least release the thousands of California workers from the necessity of paying taxes on all of their incomes since 1918, when the law went into effect, citing the privations which would occur if the bureau insisted on a retroactive payment.

Delay Is Cause

Employes of municipal street car systems and other activities in California cities were under the impression that they were exempt, as are other public servants, from income tax provisions.

Alameda, Pasadena and, unofficially, San Francisco are among California cities which have protested against the bureau ruling.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—College fraternities, being "corporations not for profit, but organized and existing for charitable and educational use and purposes," are exempt from state taxes, according to a decision of the circuit court in a test case brought by Omega chapter of the Use Upsilon fraternity of Chicago.

BROWN TALKS ON READING OF BIBLE

Evangelist Says There Are Too Many Who Do Not Read Good Book

"Do you read the Bible?" queried John Brown of a large audience that attended the morning service at the union tabernacle on North Kenwood street at 10 o'clock today.

"Some people say they are too busy to read the Bible. The reason there is such a dearth of power in the churches is that there are too many church members who do not read the Bible. May God send to Glendale a great revival of the old-time reading of the Bible," the speaker shouted.

In commencing his series of morning talks on "The Spirit-Filled Life," Mr. Brown requested those attending the services to come equipped with pencil and paper so that they can make notes, particularly of the Bible references. "If I can get you people to study scriptural life, these meetings cannot be a failure," he said.

For his text, Mr. Brown used John 16:13: "Howbeit when He, the spirit of truth, is come, He will guide you into all truth; for He shall not speak of Himself, but whatsoever He shall hear He shall speak; and He will show you things to come."

"Holy Ghost"

"Running through from the opening pages of creation through all the books of the Bible, the Holy Spirit is referred to as the third person of the triune God," he said. "The Holy Ghost is working. The acts of the Apostles might properly have been termed the Acts of the Holy Spirit as throughout the book the Holy Spirit is speaking.

"We have studied God the Father and God the Son, but have been sorely negligent in becoming acquainted with the third member of the trinity, the Holy Ghost," Mr. Brown said, in urging a study and acquaintanceship with the Holy Spirit. "Let us get this from God and get it straight. The Holy Spirit is just as much a person as God the Son. Jesus said: 'Unless I go away the Comforter will not come.' Jesus was not speaking of the Bible, but of the third person of the triune God."

Evangelist Brown will continue his series on "The Spirit-Filled Life" tomorrow, Thursday and Friday mornings. Tonight he will take as his topic "Tragedies of Neglect."

GLENDALE PLANS EASTER PROGRAM

Preliminary plans for Glendale's Sunrise Easter services, sponsored by the churches and Glendale Community service, were made in a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night, when representatives of the church young people's societies met with officials of Community Service to consider the arrangement of the Easter program. Easter falls on April 12 this year.

The services will be held on the top of Mount Forest Lawn, in the southern part of the city, with a program along similar lines to those presented formerly. Besides a speaker from Southern California religious circles, special music will be offered.

George J. Lyons, president of Community Service, and chairman of the special committee, will appoint a publicity and a program committee soon, the former group to include representatives from among the young people of each church.

PROGRAM FOR OPENING OF AVENUE

Gala Celebration To Usher In New Lights, Pavement Length Of Central

A gala celebration, embracing the entire city, will formally usher in the new ornamental lighting system on Central avenue to commemorate completion of the street work and opening of the thoroughfare, on Saturday night, March 7. Plans for the celebration were laid and the date set at a meeting of Central avenue property owners at the office of Charles B. Guthrie, general chairman, yesterday.

Bands will blare forth and fireworks will be used to announce the opening of the event. Street dancing will be a feature. "Hot dogs" and coffee will be dispensed to the merrymakers free from a line of stands to be erected along the street. Many business firms along Central avenue will open their stores for inspection by the public and will distribute free souvenirs.

Decorate Lawns

Each block along the newly lighted portion of the "Wilshire boulevard" of Glendale will be decorated in gay colors, this work being left to the residents themselves. Friendly rivalry will exist between the different blocks in an effort to gain superiority in decorations.

In every block, homes will be thrown open to friends and visitors. Refreshments will be served by each host and hostess, grounds will be decorated in lawn fete fashion and all friends from other parts of the city will be entertained.

Double Deck Bus

One of the interesting features planned by the general committee will be a sample of the double deck "Central-Los Feliz" busses that it is proposed to install in connection with the Central avenue-Kenneth road scenic line.

"In every way, the plan is to make the celebration one that will impress the public and bring out clearly that Central avenue is not north, south, east or west, but 'central,' and in Glendale will always mean 'central'," said Chairman Guthrie.

Other members of the general committee beside Mr. Guthrie who attended the meeting yesterday were J. I. Wernette, J. M. Boland, O. M. Newby, W. T. Jefferson, W. F. Tower, M. M. Hartman, Lloyd H. Wilson, O. E. Selzer and J. Herbert Smith.

HOW WELCOME—

Is that visitor who always speaks well of his neighbors.

Is that friend who allows us to talk about ourselves to our heart's content.
Is that letter which says, "Enclosed please find check."
Is the bread which has been earned by honest toil.

BLESSINGS OF WORK

George Bernard Shaw says that work is the first law of nature and the mission of mankind on earth. It is generally believed that God meant to pronounce a curse upon the human race when he told Adam "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread." But many have found that freedom from the necessity of work is not an unmixed blessing, by any means.

Andrew Carnegie congratulates a poor young man upon "being born to that ancient and honorable degree which renders it necessary that you should devote yourself to hard work."

Some find work a disagreeable way of obtaining agreeable things, while others regard it as a pleasant pastime. It all depends upon the state of mind of the worker. Nearly everyone is especially adapted to some kind of work, and it is the tragedy of life that we cannot all engage in the task we love the best. But, failing in that, we can do our work just as well as we know how and then devote a little more time to it, and we will find that it is not such a bad job after all. And, if the time spent in inventing excuses for not doing our work properly and in wishing we did not have to work at all were spent in improving the quality of our work, we should find the job much easier.

Of course there are a few people, rich and poor, in all classes of society, who have a natural antipathy to work of any kind. They love loafing. But they are not normal human beings. Most people take some pleasure in work, or they would if they could do the kind of work they love.

A great many young people drift into certain work because it affords the only opening when they first set out to look for a job. Later, they are afraid to give up this work for the uncertainty of a job that would be more congenial. In this way many go through life thinking work is hateful.

Rest is one of the greatest blessings humanity enjoys, but there can be no rest without work. Amusements lose half their zest when they do not have work for a foil.

Be thankful for work!

DOES MITCHELL MERIT PUNISHMENT?

There is a wide difference of opinion as to what treatment should be accorded Brigadier-General Mitchell for breaking military rules and bringing the aircraft-dreadnaught controversy directly to Congress and the people. Some commend him for his fearlessness and claim that he is doing the country a service. Others feel he has been unethical, to say the least. The news that Great Britain is increasing its appropriation for aviation and air defense by $10,000,000, that the total appropriation for the purpose for the next year will be $100,000,000, and that the personnel in this branch of the service will be increased to 33,000 men, comes just at the psychological moment to create sympathy for General Mitchell.

The Santa Barbara Press thinks the general is to be commended for raising this rumpus over the relative merits of the airplane and the dreadnaught. Whether he is right or wrong, this paper thinks he has performed a public service in driving the controversy into the open, and then declares that he should be punished for breaking military rules, arguing thus:

"If General Mitchell is as courageous as he seems to be he could not have embarked upon this dangerous enterprise expecting anything but punishment. It isn't a very high order of courage that ventures with the assurance it will not get hurt or that cries when it is hurt. It is not a very exalted form of devotion to one's country, or friends, or ideals that expects any reward other than the spiritual exaltation which accompanies true devotion. There is nothing in the comfortable theory that one's fortune and fame keep precise pace with his growth in grace. The rewards for spiritual acts are spiritual rewards, not material."

OUR DIAMOND JUBILEE

Glendale's three-day "Know Glendale" fiesta might very appropriately take the form of a celebration of the 75th anniversary of the birth of Los Angeles county and of the admission of California to the Union. It has been suggested that this be a jubilee year for the state of California, and preparations are being made for celebrations extending over several days that will center at San Francisco and Sacramento. A series of fiestas throughout the state during the year would serve to attract attention to California and would be a fitting way to observe the anniversary of a great historical event of importance to all of us. Since Glendale is already planning a fiesta of historical significance it would be very appropriate to connect this with the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of the state.

Although California was not admitted to the Union until September 9, 1850, there are 27 counties of the state older than the state itself, the act creating these original counties being signed by Governor Peter H. Burnett on February 18, 1850. Los Angeles county is one of these, the others being Santa Barbara, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, Monterey, Branciforte (now Santa Cruz), San Francisco, Santa Clara, Contra Costa, Marin, Sonoma, Solano, Yoya (now Yolo), Napa, Mendocino, Sacramento, El Dorado, Sutter, Yuba, Butte, Colusi (now Colusa), Shasta, Trinity, Calaveras, San Joaquin, Tuolumne and Mariposa. The cities of Santa Barbara, San Diego, Los Angeles, San Luis Obispo, Santa Cruz, San Francisco, San Jose, Martinez, San Rafael, Napa, Ukiah, Sacramento, Marysville, Weaverville, Stockton and Sonora are all original county seats.

THE UNUSUAL BECOMES THE COMMONPLACE

How soon the unusual becomes the commonplace. How quickly we adjust ourselves to new conditions and adopt improvements. On March 4, many people in every part of the United States and in many foreign countries will have the opportunity of hearing the ceremonies attending the inauguration of Coolidge and Dawes as president and vice-president of the United States. The radio has become a part of our daily living, and yet, only four years ago, when President Harding was inaugurated, we were thrilled with the announcement that amplifiers or some such device had been used so that those on the very outskirts of the enormous crowd that had assembled to witness the inauguration ceremonies could hear Harding's address clearly. How little we dreamed of the possibilities of the radio four short years ago. How little we thought then that we, here in California, would be able to hear the next president of the United States taking the oath of office.

Nurmi, the Record Smasher

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Paavo Nurmi, the Finn, at Madison Square Garden in New York City a short time ago, showed himself to be the greatest runner of all time.

He beat Joie Ray of Chicago and Willie Ritola from his own home country in the one-mile race and the 5,000-meter run.

He seems to be an extraordinary human machine. He runs with precision and accuracy and a certain rhythm. He has stamina and speed. Like all great artists he does his work easily and seems to think nothing of his performance.

Every once in a while some extraordinary man seems to stand out from his fellows. Now it is a man with a great brain, and again it is one with a tremendous physical organization. Nurmi seems to be about as near perfection as the physical frame has reached. In his American performance he repeated his European triumphs.

In the 5,000-meter run he broke the tape twenty yards or so in front of his chief rival in 14 minutes, 44 3-5 seconds. This is a record for a 5,000-meter run.

Nurmi seems to win his races not by trying, but by calling upon his extraordinary endowment of physical forces. His success is not due to any extraordinary effort on his part, but to the fact that Nature has equipped him in a remarkable way.

The fact that this runner comes from Finland is a proof that the Creator picks his champions in the most unexpected places. No one expected anything out of Finland, just as no one expected anything out of Kentucky when Abraham Lincoln was born.

This was Nurmi's first experience on an indoor track and was performed after a transatlantic journey of some difficulty. But his triumph was made with that smoothness and precision for which he is noted. A crowd of unusual size witnessed this success and thousands of people were turned away for lack of room.

He was the outstanding star in the Olympic Games of 1920 and 1924 and is still going strong. He is undoubtedly the most perfect runner in the world and has broken the record for all time.

There is no especial moral to be drawn from this. Nurmi is simply better equipped physically than other men, and by sobriety and industry has conserved his splendid physique.

That he is better than other men is explained by the fact that in every forest some tree must be the tallest. So in every crowd of men some man must be the strongest.

He is entitled to all the glory he can get, for his fame has been won by fair competition against competent rivals.

Horoscope

Threatening stars rule this day, according to astrology. Uranus, Mars and Saturn are all in malefic aspect.

It is a sway under which many forebodings may be harbored by sensitive minds and a positive attitude of optimism should be maintained.

Suicides are likely to multiply and unknown causes be ascribed in seeking for motives, because the stars are unfriendly.

Much murmuring against things as they are may be expected and labor troubles probably will be precipitated in certain parts of the east.

Mars is in a place held as unfavorable to peace projects, for a warlike spirit certainly will manifest itself within the year, if the stars are read aright.

Great demands on surgeons and physicians are forecast and again hospitals will be overcrowded.

For a time there will be renewed antagonism to faith healing and other movements that stress the dominion of the mind over the body.

Agriculturists in many parts of the country may suffer from untoward weather conditions all through this month.

Sweeping changes in the personnel of government officials are indicated for next month when Washington comes under a planetary sway making for many surprising appointments to high places.

Military matters are subject to a sinister direction of the stars that bodes ill for the increase of the army.

Women will do well to subordinate their business and professional ambitions while this configuration prevails.

Fashions are to become more modest in the coming months, but clothing is to be extremely costly before the end of the year, it is prognosticated.

Wise men and women will add much to their wardrobes at this time, they will profit by buying shoes and leather products.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of rather an unsettled year in which sudden changes come to them.

Children born on this day may be restless and adventurous. Those subjects of Pisces usually gain success in agriculture or the learned professions. Girls should make faithful, loving wives.

Today's Poem

ON A GIRDLE

That which her slender waist confined
Shall now my joyful temples bind;
No monarch but would give his crown,
His arms might do what this has done.

It was my heaven's extremest sphere,
The pale which held that lovely deer.
My joy, my grief, my hope, my love,
Did all within this circle move.

A narrow compass! and yet there
Dwell all that's good, and all that's fair.
Give me but what this ribbon bound,
Take all the rest the sun goes round!

—Edmund Waller.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

CLARK KINNAIRD

Men in great places are thrice servants; servants of the states, servants of fame, and servants of business.

We must feel with Francis Bacon that they have no freedom, either in their persons, or in their actions, or in their times.

Bacon opined that "it is a strange desire, to seek power and to lose liberty, or to seek power over others and lose power over a man's self."

Moreover, men in great places are very often forced to be hypocrites. A man in the public eye cannot lead the life he would if he were an unnoticed member of the mass which has its eyes upon him. The mass will not have it so. The little weaknesses of the ordinary man become great vices when practiced by the person in a high place.

* * *

It is to be wondered if any men of great responsibilities ever read the advice offered to them by Bacon:

"In the discharge of thy place set before thee the best examples, for imitation is a globe of precepts; and after a time set before thee thine own example; and examine thyself strictly, whether thou didst not best at first.

"Neglect not also the examples of those that have carried themselves ill in the same place; not to set off thyself by taxing their memory, but to direct thyself what to avoid.

"Reform, therefore, without bravery or scandal of former times and persons; but yet set it down to thyself as well create good precedents as to follow them.

"Reduce things to the first institution, and observe wherein and how they have degenerated; but yet ask counsel of both times; of the ancient time what is best, and of the latter time what is fittest.

"Seek to make thy course regular, that men may know beforehand what they may expect; but be not too positive and peremptory, and express thyself well when thou disgressest from thy rule.

"Preserve the right of thy place, but stir not questions of jurisdiction; and rather assume thy right in silence and de facto than voice it with claims and challenges.

"Preserve likewise the rights of inferior places, and think it more honor to direct in chief than to be busy in all.

"Embrace and invite helps and advices touching the execution of thy place, and do not drive away such as bring thee information as meddlers, but accept of them in good part."

Who's Who

The recent shifting of Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton from Berlin to London may well be taken as an expression by President Coolidge of the esteem in which Houghton is held as a result of his handling of the difficult problems as ambassador at the German capital.

Houghton was named to the German post by the late President Harding. Houghton has had delicate situations to handle from the moment of his arrival there. The strained conditions continually existing between France and Germany were one factor that made the post a difficult one. Great Britain and Belgium were at loggerheads often on the reparations problems. And in both cases constant efforts were made to involve the United States in a compromising or unfavorable light. Houghton conducted his duties with a rare diplomacy, Washington officials agree.

Prior to Houghton's election to Congress as representative from New York, 1919, he was interested in the manufacture of glass at Corning, N. Y., where he was second vice-president and later president of the Corning Glass works.

In the fall of 1921 rumor was current about Capitol Hill that President Harding would doubtless appoint Houghton ambassador to Germany, a post which had been unoccupied since the beginning of the war. Consequently, when final peace arrangements were made between the United States and Germany and public notification of Houghton's appointment to Germany was made on January 17, 1922, it caused little surprise.

Houghton is a native of Cambridge, Mass. He was graduated from Harvard in 1896, took postgraduate work at Gottingen, Berlin, and the University of Paris, and speaks German and French.

He is president of the board of religious education of western New York, trustee of Hobart college and of St. Stephen's college.

The general counsel of the federal oil conservation board, just appointed by President Coolidge, is Charles Winfield Waterman of Denver. He was the president's personal political representative during the national pre-convention campaign.

The federal oil conservation board, which has its headquarters in Washington, was an outgrowth of the Teapot Dome difficulty and is designed to prevent waste and future scandals in the oil reserves of the United States.

Waterman, who is a native of Vermont, the president's home state, was born November 2, 1861. Educated at the University of Vermont, he received his A. B. degree in 1885 and his LL. D. degree in 1922. In 1889 he obtained his LL. B. degree from the University of Michigan.

After graduation from Michigan, Waterman settled at Denver, where he began the practice of law. From 1908 to 1923 he acted as counsel for the Great Western Sugar Co. He also represented as counsel the C., B. & Q. R. R. Co., the C., R. I. & P. R. R. Co., the D. & R. G. railway, the Great Western Railway Co. and many other corporations.

Waterman is a trustee of the University of Vermont and a member of the American, Colorado state and Denver bar associations.

Announce Change In Policy For Dancing

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Jules W. Swart of the ballroom department of the Pearl Keller School of Dancing, 109-A South Central avenue, of a change in policy to comply with the popular demand for more social dancing. Beginning this week there will be one hour of social dancing following instruction in their advanced class, Monday nights at 9 o'clock; high school class, Thursday nights at 7:30 o'clock; and special adult class, Thursday nights at 9 o'clock. Mr. Swart states that the instruction in the advanced and high school classes will be the style of dancing most popular today among young people.

Women moneylenders in poor districts of large cities of England are charging such high rates that Parliament may act against them.

LIGHTWEIGHTS IN PLAYOFF CONTEST

Meet Perris This Afternoon At Pomona College In Initial Round

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

Pomona will be the scene of a Southern California play-off basketball game today when the local lightweights tangle with the fast Perris five at 4:30 o'clock on the Sagehen college floor to decide the right to continue in the play-off schedule and possibly into the finals. Both teams are good, nevertheless the dope indicates that the Dynamiters are slated for a win.

Alhambra defeated Perris in a play-off game but as Alhambra was disqualified this game has to be played over. Although the Moors beat Glendale in the first game of the season, Coach "Nucco" Butterfield firmly believes that his team could wallop Alhambra now and consequently ought to show the boys from Perris a thing or two about the hardwood game.

Jack Sturgess, one of the finds of the season, will start at center with his mates, Johnny Lovell and Wilbur Harrison, at forwards. This trio forms a mean casaba wafting outfit and is deadly when it comes to punching the register for goals. Elmer Muff will play running guard with Jack Alvord standing guard. Coach Butterfield also has a string of subs who know their oil and who will be on hand to fill in to give the regulars a rest.

Commission To Take Up Title Challenges

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Challenges for Jack Dempsey's title from Harry Wills and Tom Gibbons will be taken up in detail by the New York State Athletic commission at its meeting late this afternoon, the general belief being that the board will order the contenders to fight it out for the privilege of meeting the champion.

BEET SUGAR

DENVER, Feb. 24.—Indications that the beet sugar producer of the inter-mountain country does not anticipate any alteration in the tariff on Cuban sugars is shown by the fact that the Great Western Sugar Co. is planning two new factories, one in Wyoming and one in northern Colorado. The Holly Sugar Co. may build a plant in the same Wyoming district to compete with great western there.

SEES GREAT FUTURE FOR ATWATER PARK

J. L. Tugman, Realty Operator, Believes District Just Coming Into Own As Residential Community

The Atwater Park district, although its growth has been marvelous, has just essayed to take its place among leading communities of the greater metropolitan area, according to the belief of J. L. Tugman, realty operator.

"Atwater Park, springing into being in a day, as if by miracle, typifies the magic of Los Angeles," says Mr. Tugman.

"Surrounded by boulevards of which it is the hub, with new improvements going in, centrally located between Hollywood and Glendale, helps make this district one of the most desirable places in Los Angeles to live. Many rows of bungalows of every pattern of Spanish-American type, with porticoes, colonnades and other embellishments, which are thoroughly original, make it a community where home-loving folk are ever happy. I can see no reason why it should not grow with a population running up into the tens of thousands.

"Atwater has not yet settled down to what it is going to be; it is growing too fast for that, but the longer you live in the place the better you like it. Can more be said for any community than that?"

New Factory Planned

A permit for a two-story structure of fireproof construction, to be located on the south side of Glendale boulevard between Garden and Madera avenues, and to cost $12,000, was secured at the offices of the Los Angeles city building department today by the Arthur M. Gilman Real Estate Co. and Mrs. Effie Prichette. Ground will be broken tomorrow and construction of the building commenced immediately, according to P. E. Lipscomb, manager for the Gilman company. When completed the building will be occupied by the Los Angeles Electric Construction Co., manufacturers of ornamental electric light fixtures.

Executives Meet Tomorrow

Executive officers of the Atwater Park Community Improvement association will hold a special meeting Wednesday night at 3218 Glendale boulevard. Further efforts now being made to insure a pedestrian tunnel for Atwater avenue in order that school children living on the north side of Glendale boulevard will not have to face the heavy stream of traffic along that thoroughfare in going to and from school, will be gone over at the meeting. The improvement body is solidly back of the efforts to get the tunnel. Details of circulating ornamental light petitions will also be worked out.

Must Select Officers

A new master and junior warden of Atwater Masonic lodge, but recently organized, will be elected Thursday night of this week, when the Masons hold their weekly meeting. Ralph J. Reese, master of the lodge, has been forced to resign that position, being transferred to Long Beach by the Bank of Italy. He has already taken up his residence in the beach city. P. E. Lipscomb, junior warden, will resign that position at the meeting, due to other business which occupies his whole attention. All charter members of the lodge are urged to attend the meeting.

Scouts Meet Tonight

Atwater troop, Boy Scouts of America, will meet tonight at the Atwater Baptist church. The scout meeting night has been changed from Thursday to Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock. Since the resignation of Scoutmaster Roy Marvin, H. J. Mumaigh, chairman of the church scout committee, is in charge of the troop.

Special Prayer Service

The Women's Union of the Baptist church will hold a special prayer service Friday afternoon, commencing at 2:30 o'clock, according to Mrs. J. E. Noble, president. The service will be in conjunction with the observance of special missionary prayer day in all churches of the Northern Baptist conference.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Feb. 24.—The recently completed Catholic school and chapel at the corner of Maywood and Merton avenues was dedicated Sunday, with all-day services and special features. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. A. L. McMahon of the Dominican order.

The building covers a ground space of 65x128 feet and is of Spanish mission type, with stucco exterior and tile roof. It was built by J. D. Hendricks at a cost of $22,000.

The following representatives of local organizations have been appointed by their respective bodies to work out plans for the Easter sunrise services which are to be held at the Occidental bowl: Rev. E. J. Bradner of the Methodist church, chairman; Rev. William S. Middlemass, Presbyterian church; Miss Ethel Congdon, Thursday Morning Music club; and a representative of Women's Twentieth Century club, to be named later. The ushers will be the Boy Scouts of Eagle Rock. Lighting of the Cross will be in charge of the Kiwanis club. The American Legion, L. B. McKelvey, representative, will look after the parking. The finance committee will be composed of O. J. Root, H. I. Cruzan, C. D. Goodale and L. B. Wilson assisted by Mesdames McNary, Richart and Tate.

J. M. Odell has left on a trip to Iowa in order to close some business interests which he holds there. His wife and family are remaining in Eagle Rock during his absence which will be for over a month.

Mrs. M. Henderson, mother of Mrs. Helen Mason, of Pasadena, has been visiting Mrs. Koethen.

Mrs. M. T. Lee recently entertained chapter BX, P. E. O. of Hollywood, at her home on Shearin avenue.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Governor Richardson is rather displeased, the writer learns in Sacramento, over the fact that his speech in Glendale two weeks ago was misquoted, or garbled, in an account broadcast throughout the state.

From Harry Lutgens, executive secretary to the governor, the writer learned the Associated Press carried the purported statement that the governor said he expected to be defeated at the next election. Of course, he denied it.

And on Thursday at San Bernardino the governor took occasion to score the "yellow press" for broadcasting such statements. It is plain to see just whom he means.

The Glendale Evening News has grown to appreciate the slogan of International News Service, "Get it FIRST, but first get it RIGHT!" It costs more money, we know, for a news service that pays its correspondents for getting things RIGHT under penalty of losing their jobs.

Such newspapers as the San Francisco Chronicle, San Diego Tribune, Oakland Tribune, and others that buy and use International News Service in preference to cheaper service are evidence enough without mentioning a score more Pacific coast newspapers, all leaders in their respective fields, which depend on the accuracy of International News Service as compared with others.

The last half of the 1925 legislative season opens at the capitol today with a full program for the committees. A survey of bills already introduced shows that almost every subject is opened wide to debate, but it is to be hoped such committees, as the assembly judiciary over which Frank Weller of Glendale presides, will weed out the inane and useless measures and not protract the session.

With more than sixteen million dollars in frozen funds released by the railroads and other corporations acquiescing in the terms of the King tax bill, the board of control and the governor are sounding an "economy" note again with a view to curbing any possible spending spree on the part of the pork barrel legislators.

George Radcliffe, budget maker, believes it will be wise to buy land for state colleges, and invest a little more in buildings, but he does not believe in opening the doors wide to the various departments.

"Save money during good times" is a motto that applies to both state and business regimes.

Yesterday the public offices, banks and other institutions observed the holiday occasioned by the anniversary of George Washington's birthday which fell on Sunday.

What wonderful changes in America would "the father of his country" find were he to visit these United States today. And how intrigued he would be with Congress' investigation of the army and navy preparedness, particularly in the matter of airplanes.

Why, his army crossed the Delaware in row boats during the Revolution. The colonies had no navy, to speak of. There were no telegraph, telephone, radio, flying machines, submarines, tank or gas.

War in his day was a personal matter.

And yet with all our enlightenment, this nation, among others of the world, hasn't found a peaceful means of settling disputes.

We have progressed, but not far.

SPORTING STICK

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Standing room room only has no terrors for the British, for both men and women are carrying a racing or sporting seat stick to every outdoor event. These are of lance wood with aluminum fittings covered with pigskin. They have a hammock seat and disk at the lower end to prevent the shaft sinking too deep into turf.

CITY IS A MULTIMILLIONAIRE

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 24.—The city of Santa Barbara is a multimillionaire. Municipal property in land and improvements, not including a generous amount of cash, is exactly $4,064,004.19. This figure is given in an inventory of municipal holdings prepared by City Clerk S. B. Taggart.

BIG VENDING FACTORY

SANTA ANA, Feb. 24.—The Vendor Distributing Co., a $250,000 firm, has started work on a $50,000 three-story building on its five-acre site here. Slot machines, chewing gum, small candies and other delicacies will be manufactured in the plant which will employ 100 persons, mostly women, and will have a payroll of from $500 to $2000 per week. It is believed that the factory will be in operation within ninety days. B. F. Logan of Glendale is treasurer of the concern.

GOLD RUSH IS ON

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 24.—Scores of prospectors are rushing across the desert to the mountains two miles east of the old Vontrigger Springs where, it is reported, free milling gold running as high as $1000 a ton has been struck. The scene of the strike is near the old Vontrigger mine, operated more than 20 years, and in a country where prospectors have wandered for years hunting gold and other precious ores. According to reports reaching the city prospectors are staking out claims for miles around the sensational strike.

ROADS ARE IMPROVED

CORONA, Feb. 24.—As soon as resurfacing of the Santa Ana canyon highway from the Orange county line to Corona is completed, county road superintendent will start work on similar repairing of the concrete from Corona to May Tower on the Corona-Riverside road. The work is expected to start this week.

CITY EMPLOYES 'HOT'

LONG BEACH, Feb. 24.—Two hundred city employes, working in various departments in the city hall, are up in arms over the latest ukase emanating from the city manager's office. The order requires that all city employes give a full eight hours of their time each day to the municipality and points out that too much time is lost by employes, who, after reporting for work in the morning, spend several minutes "visiting with each other before getting down to work."

SALARY RAISES IN OFFING

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 24.—Proposed increase in salary of elective officers of the city government will be voted upon by the citizens of San Bernardino at a special election to be held April 1. The special election, coming only two weeks prior to the regular city primaries, is necessary to insure the matter going before the legislature in time for action by the present session. Salaries to be increased providing the amendment passes are: Mayor, from $1,500 to $3,000; city attorney, $1,500 to $3,000; city clerk, $1,500 to $2,400; police judge, $1,500 to $2,400; city councilmen, $500 to $1,000.

AT VERDUGO CITY

VERDUGO CITY, Feb. 24—"Boast, Don't Roast" was the prize winning slogan chosen by the committee from the Verdugo City association of Commerce on Saturday night at the last of the series of dances given by the association. Mrs. L. J. Crocker of 407 West Burchett street, Glendale was the lucky woman. A five dollar prize was awarded. Her slogan was chosen from ten others as the best of the large number submitted.

For the correct guess of the number of people present at all three dances Mrs. C. J. Donaldson of 320 Barrington road, Glendale, won the prize of $5 having guessed 660.

Miss Myrtle Coventry of Beverly Hills was the holder of the lucky admission number drawing $2.50 as the prize. The next affair to be given by the Association of Commerce will be a "hard times" dance. The committee in charge of the dance includes Fred Rieger, H. Bowlua with E. J. Fleming as chairman. Mrs. Fred Rieger and Mrs. E. J. Fleming served refreshments, small red hatchets being given as favors for more than 300 guests. The committee on arrangements wishes to thank Miss Floara Thompson of Garvanza, for assisting in drawing the lucky numbers.

DARKENED WINDOWS

By CORNELIA KANE RATHBONE

Copyright, D. Appleton & Co. Serialized by Ledger Syndicate

He was starting to descend the steps when he suddenly checked himself and drew back into the shadow of the doorway. Somebody was coming down the street—a woman. Graham had no longer any fear of Sergeant Bassett, as at the first sign of the door's opening he was prepared to ring the bell and announce himself as coming in response to Mr. Hurst's telephone call. But it was quite another matter to be seen coming out of Hannibal Hurst's house on the night of his murder. He waited, therefore, finger on bell, ears open for any sound within the house, till the woman should have passed. She was coming quickly; he could hear her hurrying feet. But suddenly the swift patter of feminine heels ceased . . . With a start Graham glanced over his shoulder—the woman was coming up the steps. Without a moment in which to collect his thoughts, he found himself gazing into the eyes which had looked out at him from the photograph on Hannibal Hurst's writing table—the photograph signed "Evadne." He thought he had never looked into eyes so wonderful—blue as southern seas, shadowy and mysterious as twilight, tragic eyes to look out of a so young face. They had the effect of paralyzing Graham's usually ready tongue. No excuse for his presence on her doorstep could he frame.

The girl, she looked no more, was the most startled of the two. She looked at Graham in a breathless, terrified way. Was she the daughter who, according to Miss Saxe, resented her father's remarriage, or was she the wife of the dead man, the girl of mystery? Whichever she was, of one thing he was confident: she could not be the E. H. who had written what, in the light of Hannibal Hurst's murder, he could not but feel were incriminating words.

This conviction, for which he had no grounds save the loveliness of her eyes, filled him with a sense of relief and elation. He laughed inwardly at the absurdity of this feeling. As if it mattered to him whether this girl or equally unknown Estelle had written that note! But even while he laughed he acknowledged to himself that it did matter—that it mattered a great deal, though in that first moment he did not fully know how much. When the half-gods are gone and one's house is empty and swept and garnished, then is the time to bolt and bar the door lest some new god steal in and take possession and one's house be no longer one's own. Graham did not know this, so impudently he set his door ajar and peered at Evadne through the crack.

The girl on the step below him, having regained her composure, smiled at him apologetically.

"You startled me a little," she said. "I am Mrs. Hurst. I am afraid that you have been ringing in vain, for I let all the servants go out this evening." Her voice was rich and low; her speech the English of overseas. "I am sorry that Mr. Hurst is not at home," she added, with a quick indrawn breath.

He recognized that he was being courteously dismissed as, with a slight inclination of the head, she took a latch key from the bag she carried, and approached the door. Instinctively Graham stretched out his arm and barred her way, seized with a desire to shield her from the shock she was on her way to meet; to prepare her, at least, for the tragedy that awaited her behind that now closed door.

"Don't go in yet," he said quickly. "Wait a minute. I'm afraid something is wrong in there."

She snatched at the railing of the steps for support. "They have—they have—" she stammered, and went no further, her hand flying to her lips as if to choke back the words.

"I'm sorry to have alarmed you," Graham apologized. "It was only—only that as I came down the street I saw a policeman enter the house."

He hated lying, not primarily, perhaps, on moral grounds, but because he considered it cowardly and ungentlemanly. Now it came to him, in a sudden flash of self-revelation, that his former truthfulness was in reality nothing more than lack of adequate motive for falsehood. Now the adequate motive was his. At all costs his presence on the scene of the murder must not become known; no shadow of suspicion must be allowed to attach itself to a member of the firm of Graham, Keith and Graham, whose good name was a trust handed down through three generations to him—its humble junior partner. In such a cause lying became almost a virtue. He charged his mendacity to the account of the firm, and felt at peace with his soul. His only concern was lest, for lack of practice he should fail to lie convincingly.

Fortunately Mrs. Hurst accepted his explanation without question. "A policeman!" she echoed. "You saw him enter this house!"

"Yes," replied Graham stoutly.

The girl glanced up at the darkened windows of the hostile-looking house, and shuddered. "What shall I do!" she whispered hoarsely, appealing to him helplessly. "I'm—I don't know why, of course, but I'm afraid. I can't go in there—that policeman—" She broke off with a shudder.

"Let me go in with you," Graham urged. "I haven't introduced myself, but I am John Graham of Graham, Keith & Graham, Mr. Hurst's attorneys. Please think of me as very much at your service."

She looked at him fixedly for a moment as if striving to read beneath the conventional phrase; then, as if satisfied, held out her hand.

"Thank you, I'd be very glad if you would come in with me," she said. "If anything should be wrong I have nobody to turn to."

"I wish you would think of me as a friend and not merely as one of your husband's lawyers," Graham said impulsively.

She gently released her hand, which Graham was still holding. "Thank you," she said again.

"I mean it," he insisted, a trifle rebuffed.

She twisted her hands nervously together. "I may need a friend sometime," she said faintly. "If I do—"

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram. Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterruptedly. Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white spaces remain uninterruptedly.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

Last night at the playhouse the Dobinson Players presented for the first time "A Woman's Way" by the well known writer, Thompson Buchanan. Lovers of the theatre are going to see this play more than once, and those who are not theatre goers are coming the second time, as the play deals with every day life and its problems, known to many a woman who has just such a situation as presented by "A Woman's Way" to meet. It is a comedy, and one has many a laugh, but back of the play runs a serious vein which makes for a production seldom seen in stock companies.

Two women in love want the same man—at least one thinks the other woman is in love with the other woman's husband, but the wife who is always equal to the situation, never for a moment losing her self control, proves to her erring husband the falsity of the other woman, and instead of the divorce courts, they are brought together through matching wits.

Mrs. Raymond Hatton, known in the theatrical world as Frances Hatton, plays the part of the wife with a finesse and understanding which wins for her the admiration of the audience. She is indeed a clever actress whose personality and charm are felt whenever she appears on the stage. Natalie Warfield as Mrs. Blackmore, the other woman, is captivating. Mary Isabelle Alpaugh as Sallie Livingston is at her best in this role. Her unalloyed simplicity is her chiefest charm. Joseph McManus plays the part of the husband in an effective manner and again proves himself the capable actor. The rest of the cast—William Chapman, Laura Winston, Richard Ehlers, Thyra Ruhland, William H. Stephens, Jerome Collomore, and Bram Nossen are capable in their parts.

"A Woman's Way" will be presented every night this week except Sunday and at the usual popular price matinee on Saturday. The dancing on Friday night has been discontinued.

THE GATEWAY

The "Code of the Wilderness," a real western drama, will be seen the last time tonight at the Gateway theatre. Wednesday will see the usual snappy bill of select vaudeville, together with Bebe Daniels in "Miss Bluebeard." This is the gay love farce which Broadway roared at for a solid year.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RAG BEE

Soon after breakfast in the hollow stump bungalow one morning, Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy said to Uncle Wiggily:

"I shall not be here to get your lunch. But I will leave plenty for you to eat in the panty. Just help yourself."

"Thank you," answered the rabbit gentleman. "But where are you going, if I may be so bold as to ask?"

"I am going over to Aunt Lettie's house," answered Nurse Jane. "The goat lady is having a rag bee today."

"A rag bee?" exclaimed the bunny. "What is that—a bee made out of rags, or rags made out of a bee?"

Nurse Jane laughed until her tail was tied in three knots, and when she had taken them out she answered, saying:

"A rag bee is where a lot of us get together to sew carpet rags for the one having the bee. I suppose they call it a bee because we sew as busily as bees gather honey. Anyhow, that's where I'm going."

"There won't be any bees there, really, though, will there?" asked the bunny uncle.

"Of course there won't!" said Nurse Jane. "Just a lot of the animal ladies sewing carpet rags. Now don't forget your lunch is in the pantry."

"I'll remember," said Mr. Longears. Then he hopped out to look for an adventure, and Nurse Jane went to the rag bee, taking her thimble, needle and thread. Aunt Lettie had plenty of rags which were to be torn up into long strips and sewed together.

But, somehow or other, Uncle Wiggily couldn't find any adventure that morning, and when noon came, and he felt hungry, he hopped back to get his lunch in the hollow stump bungalow. Try as he did, the rabbit gentleman could not remember where Nurse Jane had said he would find something to eat. He looked down cellar, in the parlor, under the piano and behind the hat rack, but not a thing could he find to eat.

"I'll just hop over to Aunt Lettie's house and ask Nurse Jane where she said the food was," decided Uncle Wiggily. "She may be busy sewing rags, but she'll stop long enough to tell me."

Aunt Lettie's house wasn't far away, and the bunny gentleman soon reached it. Long before he got there, however, he could hear the animal ladies talking. It sounded like bees buzzing, and perhaps that is why it was called a "bee."

Uncle Wiggily knocked on the door, which was opened by Aunt Lettie.

"I came to ask Nurse Jane where she left my lunch," spoke the bunny. "It was stupid of me not to remember, but I don't. Oh, there you are, Nurse Jane!" he cried, seeing the muskrat lady on the other side of the room. He started to go to her, but Aunt Lettie suddenly cried:

"Look out! You're all tangled up in my rags!" And, surely enough, the bunny had put one paw in a loop of rags and was dragging them along.

"Oh excuse me!" he cried trying to jump to one side.

"Look out! Now you're in my rags!" barked Mrs. Bow Wow.

"Pardon me!" gasped the poor rabbit gentleman. Then he jumped backward, and Mrs. Bushytail, the squirrel, chattered:

"Oh, now you're tangling up the rags I'm sewing!"

"What shall I do? What shall I do?" gasped poor Uncle Wiggily.

"Stand still until I untangle you!" advised Nurse Jane, trying not to laugh. Then she and the other lady animals got Uncle Wiggily's paws free from the tangle of carpet rags and he jumped out on the porch.

'Tell me while I stand here where I'll find something to seat, Nurse Jane," he begged.

"In the pantry, of course, where I told you!" said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"Oh, I looked everywhere but there!" said the bunny. "How stupid of me!" Then he started to hop home, but one paw was still caught in a long streamer of rags, and I don't know what would have happened if Uncle Butter, the goat, hadn't come along just then with his knife and cut the rags, setting the bunny free.

"I'll never go near a rag bee again if I starve to death!" said Mr. Longears as he hopped back to his bungalow. And he never did.

But supposing the teakettle behaves itself and doesn't puff steam in the face of the clock? Eh, what then? Well, in that case, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the willow buds.

IDLE WORKERS

TAMAQUA, Pa., Feb. 24.—Collieries here are working steadily and turning out a normal output but there are many idle men throughout the Panther creek valley as bank operations and stripping operations have been curtailed by slack call for anthracite. CAPELINE HATS

PARIS, Feb. 24.—The trend toward the large capeline hats, which always makes its appearance at this time of year, is finding expression at present in Borneo strawbraid of the brown wood tones. These hats usually are trimmed with ribbed silk ribbon and a feather galloon.

OIL MEN ANXIOUS

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 24.—Oil men are becoming anxious over the fact that gasoline is the only petroleum product which has gone up with crude oil in price. Kerosene, gas oil, distillate and fuel oil are stationary, although it is up from $1 to $1.82 a barrel.

NIGHT COUGH QUICKLY RELIEVED

Tried almost everything and found nothing to equal FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND. One dose relieved my cough and I rested well all night." One of the largest selling cough medicines in the world. Contains no opiates. Safe for children. Insist upon Foley's. Refuse substitutes.

Mr. E. Todd, carpenter, 133 Los Feliz Rd., says: "My back was sore and there was a continual dull, steady ache across my kidneys. When I stooped, those pains dug in deeper and it was hard for me to get up or down. I knew my kidneys were the cause of the trouble, so I began using Doan's Pills. One box relieved me of all symptoms."

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

TOO-TOO-THIN? (Part 4)

There are other measures besides increasing the diet that will help you to gain, but increasing the diet is the most important single measure.

My last three articles to you who are trying to gain, emphasized the importance of eating more than you have been. Are you skeptical that this will help you. Read this letter from one of last year's gaining class, that came in my morning's mail. It has many valuable suggestions in it.

"My dear Dr. Peters: You have been a true friend to my husband and myself, through your column. At the time we commenced housekeeping four years ago, we were both very much underweight and of course suffering from the various disorders which usually accompany undernourishment.

"Chiefly, I believe, through the use of more milk in my cooking—I make all kinds of bread with it, use it for cooking cereals and the vegetables that do not have to be drained, make soups, sauces and desserts and use it in a great many ways I had not thought of before reading your column—my husband is now normal weight and feeling fifty per cent better, and although I still have a few pounds to add, I'm coming.

"I wish you might make your advice to the T. T. T's. more emphatic. There may not be as many of us as there are of the F. F. F.'s, but I believe we are in greater need.

"I have a request to make. We are overjoyed because we are expecting an heir or heiress in the near future, and I want to be prepared to make it comfortable, so please send me any advice you may have to offer to inexperienced mothers-to-be. Sincerely, —Mrs. J."

Now, there is something in this letter I'll wager you have not noticed. It is this: this couple have been married four years without any offspring. Did their undernourishment have anything to do with this? It might have. In the experimental nutrition laboratories, it has been proved that animals that are fed on diets deficient in vitamins, often become sterile. Now it is highly probable that in undereating, as our friends apparently did, they were not getting sufficient vitamins. (Overweight has the same tendency in certain cases to produce sterility, as underweight.)

To the anti-milkers—those who believe milk to be an unnatural food for adults—this letter is a good refutation. Milk is just as good a food for adults as it is for babies and children and it is no more unnatural than most of our foods. Our wheat and other grains and our fruits have all been perfected by man through cultivation. In their wild states, many of the foods are inferior.

The longest-lived and the most virile peoples in the world that we know of—the nomad Arabs and certain people in the Himalayas and some of the Balkans—are great consumers of milk.

Occasionally, it is true, there are people who cannot take milk; they have what is called an idiosyncrasy, or sensitization to ordinary milk. And many of these people can take it in modified forms, however, as in custards, cheeses, malted milks, cream sauces, etc. In your gaining regime, milk is the food above all others that you should add to your diet if you possibly can.

In last week's paper, I spoke about adding egg yolks, more nuts, whole grain breads, cereals, etc., to the diet. Too often those who are underweight try to gain by adding too many oil foods. This is apt to upset the digestion.

Tomorrow, I'll tell you some of the other measures to help you gain.

Answers to Correspondents

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e., if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

E.: "Please tell me of some way to make labels stick on glass and tin."

Answer: Mix one part of powdered gum arabic (obtain this at a drugstore) with one part of starch and four parts of granulated sugar; add enough cold water to barely cover, and boil till the dry ingredients are dissolved. Then thin with clear water to the consistency of liquid glue, and use.

Mrs. M.: "Several years ago I had a recipe for a Christmas Cookie called 'Cinnamon Stars.' I wonder if you, or any of our readers, could give it to me? It had cocoanut in it."

Answer: I regret that I have not this recipe, but let us hope that if any one of our generous Housekeeper Friends has, she will write it on a postal card and mail it to me in care of this newspaper.

Mrs. X.: "I would appreciate a recipe for a good Veal Loaf."

Answer: Veal Loaf: Put three pounds of lean veal and two slices of salt pork through a food chopper and mix well together, then add six rolled unsweetened crackers, one-fourth cup of melted butter, one slightly-beaten egg, and salt, pepper and ground sage to suit individual liking (I, personally, like a high sage seasoning—about one teaspoon). Stir well, then pack the mixture into a small bread pan. Bake in a slow oven for three hours. Cool before turning from the pan. Cut in slices for serving—either hot or cold.

Bride: "We have a plaster cast of which we are very fond. I do not want it to get dirty. What shall I do? Wash it when the first dust appears?"

Answer: No, give it a thin coat of white shellac, then apply two successive thin coats of old ivory enamel in a semi-gloss finish, allowing 24 hours to elapse between the first and second coat. Smooth the first coat with the finest grade of sandpaper when dry, to remove brush marks. This type of finish can safely be washed with lukewarm water and a little whiting, or with suds of mild soap. This is called a "permanent" finish. Often the casts one buys have a kalsomine finish which soils readily and will not withstand washing; but they may be gently and quickly wiped with a cloth wrung out of cold, soapy water (if they have become soiled) before applying the Permanent Finish.

Tomorrow: Some Good Hot Breads.

A COUGH REMEDY WITHOUT OPIATES

Many cough preparations contain some one or more harmful drugs which are added to take the place of opiates. None of these narcotic substitutes have ever been used in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND. Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

ANSWERED LETTERS

C. L. B.—Rub plenty of cleansing cream or oil into your elbows to soften the hard, dark skin, and then scrub them with hot water and soap. After rinsing and drying, rub oil or cream into the elbows again until the pores have taken up all they will absorb. Close pores with very cold water and powder the skin generously over the part that has become dark and hardened. It will take a daily treatment like this for several weeks before there can be any improvement.

Your friend can gain in weight if she takes cod liver oil over all the remaining cold months, after which she can take olive oil even into the warm weather. Your scalp needs a tonic in which there is sulphur or some other purifying ingredient.

Warren C. S.—The only way to change the shape and size of the nose is by having an operation performed. I cannot state what the cost would be, as that would depend upon what the surgeon considered his time and services worth to him.

Mrs. J. J. H.—You may be using too much alcohol on your scalp, as it is much too stimulating to use full strength except for an occasional treatment, when it will stop falling hair just as you say it does yours. Sometimes such a treatment for several days will be all that is needed, while a continuance of it would be drying to the scalp and lead to many scalp troubles other than just falling hair. Alcohol in a hair tonic does not act this way as there are so many other ingredients in the mixture also. You should not use a denatured alcohol on the scalp, unless you know that the alcohol has something in it that will not injure the health of your scalp.

A reader, Anxious.—One of the most important things to remember when trying to clear the skin of blackheads, is to keep the pores of the whole body active by means of daily bathing and sufficient exercise. Another matter of importance is the digestion and elimination. Often blackheads have resulted only because the pores of the complexion have become distended from being overworked in trying to keep the system cleared.

Aside from the treatment advised above, very little need be done to clear the skin of blackheads in most cases. You can soften the impacts somewhat by working a little oil or a cream into them just before bathing, after which scrub with a fine soap and warm water, and make the final rinse very cold to help close the pores and tone up the health of the skin in general.

K. B. G.—The mixture of peroxide and ammonia will not hurt the skin when used merely to bleach superfluous hair. Several applications a week are all that are necessary.

Tomorrow—The Chin Line

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. BENJAMIN WINNER IN FRISCO BATTLE

Outpoints Silver In Fight For Coast Lightweight Championship

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
For International News Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—The fighting game has come back in California financially as well as legally. Approximately 20,000 persons paid $40,000 to witness a lightweight ten-round elimination bout in the first tryout of outdoor boxing under the new state boxing law.

As a result Harry Morrison, father of the boxing bill and promoter of the Jack Silver-Joe Benjamin fight, today "pointed with pride" to the success of both the measure and the fight and at the same time added heavily to his bank account.

Benjamin won easily in a fast, clean, hard fought battle. He had a clear margin in most of the rounds over Silver and in the second almost scored a knockout. The Los Angeles boy won not only the Pacific coast lightweight championship through his victory but also the right to represent the far-west in the national elimination tournament to find a successor to the crown of Benny Leonard.

The whole fight program was good and pleased the big crowd. There were many women present at Recreation park and quite a smattering of notables of the world fistiania.

Silver and Benjamin each received $3,000 for the match bout. The sums paid the other boxers were not announced. The federal government took $4,000 in tax from the receipts and the state boxing fund was enriched to the extent of about $2,000. Insurance companies were enriched to the extent of $1,800, having agreed in return for that premium to pay Morrison and his co-promoters $10,000 had rain stopped the event.

Only one thing marred the event and that was the hurling of cushions and may result in rules being adopted by the boxing commission stopping their sale.

Stecher After Match With Champion Munn

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—After throwing Wladek Zbyszko last night in thirty-nine minutes and thirteen seconds with his famous body scissors, Joe Stecher, former champion declared today that he would leave immediately for the west to level a challenge at Wayne "Big" Munn, who recently won the heavyweight title in a sensational bout with Strangler Lewis.

Never Let a Cold Get a Start

Vapors Check a Cold Overnight

There are many ways to treat a cold but only one DIRECT way—with vapors that can be inhaled.

Vapors penetrate immediately into every corner of the air passages and lungs, soothing and healing with every breath.

Vicks is so remarkably successful in treating cold troubles because it acts like "a vapor lamp in salve form."

When rubbed over throat and chest the body heat releases vapors of Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme and Turpentine. At the same time Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster.

This double, direct action often checks the worst cold over-night.—Advertisement.

Well Begun Is Half Run

PAAVO NURMI, the Finnish runner, has a peculiar style for starting and finishing his races, one that can be rightly termed unorthodox, while LOREN MURCHINSON still carries out the American traditions and types in his footwork.

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Written for The Evening News

Paavo Nurmi continues to hold the American public spellbound with his wonderful performances. And rightfully so. Perhaps one thing that makes him doubly interesting to athletic followers of this country is because we have specialized in dash men. Paddock, Murchinson, Scholz—these men and others have typified America's "pep" in the short events. America was woefully weak in the distance events in the Olympic games.

Nurmi, therefore, gives them something new to study.

America is accustomed to see runners crouch at the mark and spring away at the crack of the gun to "get the jump" on the field in a dash event. Nurmi, the center of all eyes, appears sort of out of tune as the average spectator watches the start of one of his distance races until the difference in the events is recalled.

The dash man needs the "flash" start. This start saps strength, however. The distance man does not need the fraction of a second this start gains. He starts off easily.

Nurmi takes an easy standing position, resting lightly on the balls of feet, his hands drawn up much as he holds them in his runs. With the gun he is off to a steady pace—albeit a heart-breaking one for his rivals—which he holds throughout the race.

Nurmi finishes with the same stride. The dash man, burning himself out in his 100 or 200 yard burst of speed finishes in a leaping stride or final desperate plunge, agony written plainly on his face. It's hard for Americans to erase such a picture from their minds.

Tommy O'Brien Stops K. O. George Chaney

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—With the echo of Tommy O'Brien's sensational knockout of K. O. George Chaney still reverberating up and down Broadway the second episode of the lightweight elimination tournament will take place tonight with the meeting of K. O. Jackle and George Lee. Lee has been installed a favorite in the betting.

The various lightweights entered are breathing easier today as the result of the elimination of Chaney, the owner of more than 100 knockouts. He dropped O'Brien for a count of nine in the first round and seemed on the verge of an early victory when O'Brien, in spite of a broken right hand, crossed the member to Chaney's jaw in the fifth. The latter barely lasted to the bell and was knocked down twice in the fifth before succumbing. O'Brien will be out of the rest of the tourney, according to the official club physician who examined the broken hand.

Jimmy Goodrich, however, remained in the running, although many disputed his victory over Eddie "Kid" Wagner.

Twenty-five thousand tons of steel will be used in the Welland canal of Canada this year.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP by FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—When Johnny Dundee recently returned from abroad he came pretty close to letting the cat out of the bag by laying claim to the title he had previously relinquished, the featherweight title. He covered himself later by saying he was only kidding.

While under suspension for failure to go through with a match with Bretonnel, the French battler, Johnny is not so idle as many might suppose.

Instead of facing the empty months in idleness, the Scotch Wop is keeping his nose to the grindstone, faithfully following a plan he figures to bring him down to the featherweight limit by next June.

His aim will be a go with the European feather king, Mascart. Mascart is a Frenchman and the French are crazy for him to get at Dundee and take revenge for what Johnny did to Criqui.

Of course Dundee is barred from fighting at the featherweight poundage. He may get away with it by agreeing to refrain from being billed as the world's champion.

In consenting to meet Mascart it stands to reason Dundee will be restored to good standing by the French boxing federation, at whose request the New York commission suspended him in this country. So if the French reinstate him, so will New York.

It would be interesting to figure how many persons would accept Kaplan's claim to the title he holds should Dundee win over Mascart. The American fight fans have no use for "assigne's" and believe a titleholder has got to beat a champion to win a title. As a matter of fact the National Boxing Board, composed of the combinations of seventeen states, refused to be a party to the well-meaning dictum of the New York board, and still considers Dundee to be the rightful feather king.

FIGHTERS READY FOR BIG BATTLE

Colima Gets Chance Tonight At Welterweight Champ At Doyle's Arena

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—Regarded as the biggest boxing attraction in California since the state's long-bout law went into effect, Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, was scheduled to make his far western debut here tonight in twelve rounds against Bert Colima, California Mexican middleweight, at Jack Doyle's Vernon arena.

Mr. Walker's golden crown will be safely tucked away in mosquito-proof satin in his New Jersey home, the bout having been arranged as a no-decision affair. Walker will weigh 147 pounds, against about 155 for Colima. Walker was an 8-to-5 favorite.

SPORT CHATTER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Having set a precedent by launching elimination tournaments in the featherweight and lightweight classes, the New York State Athletic commission plans to carry the idea into all classes of the manly art of legalized assault, even unto the heavyweights.

The latter, in fact, will get immediate action, starting tomorrow, when it is understood that Tom Gibbons and Harry Wills will be ordered to appear in the feature bout of the milk fund show to establish the logical contender in the division.

The term "ordered" is used advisedly. Gibbons is ready to fling a fist with any man, provided it leads to a bout with Jack Dempsey. But Wills is believed to entertain other ideas. It is understood he is demanding the first shot at Dempsey.

The elimination affair, in any case, is to be a two-man proposition, since Wills and Gibbons are the only heavyweights available with the slightest pretentions to championship rating. That the commission recognizes this state of affairs and is prepared to act accordingly has been forecast by the tentative announcement of the match by those behind the milk fund program. They must know that they have an ace in the hole somewhere in the event of a disagreement with Wills, since they are of the type of men not given to premature announcements.

MILKMEN DEFEAT LEGION PLAYERS

Contest Close Until Third Period When Creamery Forges Ahead

The Calla Lily casaba tossers went into third place and the Legion dropped to sixth place in the Glendale Merchants' league last night when the milkmen walloped the former service men 42 to 19 at the Harvard High school gym. The game was the final contest for the creamery crew for the first round of the schedule, while the Legion has one more game to play.

The game was fairly even until the third quarter. The milkmen were leading 6 to 4 at the end of the first quarter, and 13 to 10 at half time. In the third quarter the milkmen made 17 points while the Legion added only seven, and in the final period added 12 more while holding the Legion to a lone basket.

Talbert, playing left forward for the milkmen, led in the scoring with 17 points. Shingledecker, right forward on the same team, was second with 13 points, and Avery, milkman guard, and Liggett, Legion forward, followed with 10 each.

Lead Alternates

Liggett opened the scoring, but the count was knotted when Shingledecker found the basket. Talbert put the milkmen in the lead with a basket. Walker tied the score by locating the Legion goal and Talbert again put his team in the lead before the quarter ended 6 to 4.

Walker tied the count again, but not for long as Shingledecker, caging one, was followed by Talbert, and Avery gave the milkmen a four-point lead with another basket. Liggett shot two baskets in quick succession, and Shingledecker made a free throw as the half ended, 13 to 10.

The Calla Lily crew forged farther ahead in the third quarter, the order of baskets being: Avery, three in a row; Shingledecker, two in a row; Avery, making the count 25 to 10. Jensen threw a free throw, and a moment later Talbert made a free throw. Talbert added a basket, and Avery got another. In the last few minutes of play, Walker, Liggett and Jensen caged baskets, making the score 30 to 17.

The Legion's final points came late in the fourth quarter after the milkmen had added ten points on a basket by Talbert, one by Hyatt, one by Shingledecker and two by Talbert. Liggett scored, and Talbert made a basket just before the game ended, 42 to 19.

The lineups:

CALLA LILY (42)		LEGION (19)
Shingledecker (13)	R.F.	Liggett (10)
Talbert (17)	L.F.	Walker (6)
Hyatt (2)	C.	Jensen (3)
Randall	R.G.	Schmidt
Kerns	L.G.	Powell

Substitution: Avery (10) for Kerns.

Score By Quarters

	1	2	3	4	Tl.
Calla Lily	6	7	17	12	—42
Legion	4	6	7	2	—19

Tonight's battle will be between the M. E. church and the Christian church teams, and will be a postponed game. The M. E. churchmen are in fourth place now, by reason of the Calla Lily victory last night, but a win for the M. E. church crew will give them a tie with the milkmen and finish the first round for them.

The Standard Oil and Legion are scheduled to meet tomorrow night. The game will wind up the first round for the Legion but will leave the Oilers one game short as the Oilers-Radio game of last week, which was postponed, will not be played before the second round starts on March 2.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

By Special Leased Wire to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The Boston Nationals perhaps are more in need of assistance than any club in their circuit and they probably will be experimented with to a greater extent during the spring training season than any other club. Almost the same thing could be said of the Boston Americans with respect to their league.

What may come out of the dark situation in the New England city, no one can predict thus early. But the Boston fans should not be too much disappointed in any event. Experience has taught them not to expect too much.

Last year the loyal legions of Boston were much wrought up by reports from the spring training camp of what fine things the Braves were doing. A little later they were all aglow over the good work of the Red Sox, early in the season, only to relapse dazed and humbled after both clubs flivvered.

The Braves' flop was the worst of the two. The Braves were mentioned in President Heydler's report as one of the teams that did not do so well financially. They have been making some efforts to get on their feet for 1925, but they will have to do a lot of experimenting to achieve it.

Powell, the outfielder, who has been dropped unconditionally. Neis of Brooklyn will take his place. Neis does so well some times that he looks for all the world like a comer. Other times he looks more like a has-been.

Boston will need something in the infield as well as in the outfield. Burrus who played in the Southern association last season, will try again for big league company. He is being groomed by the Braves for first base and if he makes it he will displace McInnis. This old star of Connie Mack's champion Athletics has not done so well since he left Philadelphia. Mechanically he does well enough, but he seems to have found the trail of a rut and sticks in it.

Burrus is a rough and ready first base man. He is not of the polished, catlike type, but Manager Niehoff of Atlanta says he has picked up a lot.

Tierney, who played second for the Braves in 1924, has gone to Brooklyn and Bancroft, the Boston manager may have in mind a rearrangement of his infield which he is keeping to himself. Welch, the player who was secured from Seattle and who is really of major league promise, can play either first or in the outfield. As the team is starting with another first baseman, Welch may go to the outfield, which is badly in need of bolstering. That would give Welch and Neis for a start with a third outfielder to be selected. Perhaps it would be Felix, who was not in good physical condition last year, but is popular with the heads of the club.

Of course there also is Casey Stengel, who is as likely to have a tip-top season this year as at any time in his career. He is in good condition and there is no outfielder in their circuit who has better judgement as to where batters place their hits.

Casey is not quite as fast as he was, but if he can get back to the home run habit on a club which needs that sort of thing, he will make the Braves' outfield much better than it was last year.

Pacific Coast Teams Open Training Camps

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—Getting away to an early start, every club in the Pacific Coast league has started work at training camps. The regular season opens April 7. The Oakland club will put on its stuff at Myrtledale Hot Springs. Portland will work out at San Jose, San Francisco at Boyes Springs, Seattle at Santa Maria and Salt Lake City at Long Beach.

CITIZENS ASK HUMANE CLUB BE MOVED

Council Hears Protest To Dog Kennels Fronting On Ivy Street

A petition of protest against the small animal kennels of the Glendale Humane society on Ivy street was brought before the City Council this morning. The petition contains the names of twenty-four residents and property owners of the district, among them L. H. Wilson, president of the Park board; Thomas D. Ford, E. E. Steiner, W. H. Bucher, Mrs. Sophia St. John, Mrs. Clarence Jones and Mrs. Catherine Ford. The petition reads:

"We, the undersigned citizens of Glendale and owners of property here, hereby protest against the Glendale Humane society headquarters remaining on Ivy street in their present location, because of this being a public nuisance and, we believe, a menace to public health; because of the howling of dogs night and day, the odors and flies caused by this establishment, which affect the neighborhood for several blocks; because we believe it also to be a detriment to the neighborhood generally, which tends to greatly depreciate property values; because of the flies and the fact that various eating places, creameries and other businesses handling foodstuffs are nearby; and because we believe this establishment should be moved to another location farther from any residence district, as we feel that it is a source of contamination, as it is, to the city generally."

The council referred the petition to the committee of the whole.

Street Car Service

All protests were denied at the hearing on assessment for the improvement of Kenilworth avenue, and a resolution was adopted confirming the assessment roll.

A communication from the Chamber of Commerce, signed by President D. H. Smith of that body, and requesting that steps be taken to bring about a change from interurban to local service on the Pacific Electric line, was referred to the committee of the whole. The council granted the local pyramid of Sciots a permit to erect and maintain a tent at the northwest corner of Brand boulevard and Magnolia avenue, from February 25 to March 6, inclusive, and granted the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association permit to maintain this tent at the same location from March 7 to 14, inclusive. A. C. Rice was granted a thirty-day extension of time on his contract for installation of ornamental street lights on Los Feliz road.

A communication from the Union Pacific Railroad Co., requesting that an open ditch through their property between Sixth and Mono streets, Los Angeles, dug for the purpose of installing the Glendale sewer system, be closed, was referred to the city manager.

Commercial Zone

Hearings on establishment of a commercial district on Verdugo road were set before the City Planning commission for March 9, and before the City Council for March 12. Ordinances were offered announcing intention of improving Cumberland road, and removing from the industrial to the residential district certain lots on Davis street. Resolutions were adopted accepting maps for the opening and laying out of Cumberland road, and publishing notice to sell to the Southern Counties Gas Co. a twenty-five-year franchise to construct a pipe line within the Glendale city limits; and a ninety-day permit was granted this company to start work on this pipe line, covering such time as may be required for the franchise to become effective.

A petition of protest against the opening of Doran street was filed with the city clerk.

Serum Injections

At first belittled by the French doctors, the infection rapidly gained until peritonitis was diagnosed early Wednesday morning and she was rushed to the hospital and operated upon.

The operation has not succeeded in staying the infection, and it is now declared that only serum injections prevented her death several days ago. It is probable that a blood transfusion will be attempted as the first resort and if it fails there will have to be another operation, which in the present condition of the patient is declared extremely risky.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Mixed price movements prevailed in the stock market today. The general list made little progress and brilliant movements in the specialty stocks, even with pool-support lacking. Railroad and equipment stocks led the way to higher-price levels and were more successful than the industrials, but in most cases they were unable to retain their higher positions and were extremely sensitive to profit-taking.

The bears were cautious and bulls were not venturesome. The bulls made little or no effort to boost the prices of their favorite stocks, the pool in Savage Arms being the only one to show an aggressive spirit. Oil stocks were not wanted, except at good concessions in prices.

The loan position of the commercial banks needed readjustment, due to the deficit of $35,000,000 in the surplus reserves of the clearing-house banks last Saturday. This necessitated some calling of loans and consequently the call-loan rate moved up to 4½ per cent, a full point above last week's ruling rate.

Even the remote prospect of a reduction in income taxes was a pleasing contemplation for Wall street, to which was added the certainty of the adjournment of Congress next week—always a bullish factor in the stock market.

Early profit-taking created an irregular price movement in the majority of active stocks, from which the first to emerge were the specialty stocks, including Savage Arms, Radio Corporation, Wright Aeronautical and American Can. Then the railroad stocks were taken in hand, New Haven leading a strong and active movement in which it sold up two points, to 35¾, the highest since 1920. The Van Sweringen railroad stocks responded to reports that formal application had been filed for the new charter. Nickel Plate, when issued, on the curb, New York, Chicago & St. Louis and Erie on the big board sold at gains of a point or more.

Stock sales 1,330,100 shares; bonds $13,224,000.

There were 10,395,000 first class letters sent out through the local office last year, he said. Only ten postoffices in the state rank higher than the Glendale office in speed and efficiency, he said. Postmaster Jackson invited the members of the club to make an inspection tour of the office. He explained some of the common errors committed by letter writers and told how to insure quick delivery of mail.

The silent boost was donated by A. J. Cryderman. R. E. Johnston spoke on the various classifications open at the present time. Carl M. Christy reported on attendance.

TOWN WAITING TO BE SUNK IN WATER

Reservoir To Cover Entire Village of Volcano After Permission

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 23.—Submergence of the town of Volcano beneath the waters of an inland sea is awaiting consummation of the purchase of Amador county holdings of the Crocker Estate Co. of San Francisco by the Pacific Gas Electric Co. for the purpose of water storage.

The town of Volcano in 1852 cast a total of 1400 votes and over sixty saloons fronted its main street. From a bustling gold camp with many thousand inhabitants it has fallen in population to one hundred, mostly pioneers or descendants of pioneers.

Options on the townsite and surrounding acreage have been secured by the power company and application has been made to Washington for a federal permit to create a vast artificial reservoir.

Volcano residents are resigned to the inevitable, and within a short time the saloons, dance halls, stores and other buildings which in the heyday of Volcano's prosperity resounded with the clink of gold and the merriment of adventurers will be forever hidden fathoms deep.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—As reported by the American Bureau of Metal Statistics the January production of copper was 107,213 tons, an increase from the December production of 101,304 tons. TREE REMOVAL ACTION IS HALTED

Advancement Association to Heed Citizens' Protests For Present Time

Removal of trees along Glendale avenue, urged in a resolution passed a week ago by the Glendale Advancement association, was discussed further at the meeting of that organization today noon at the Harriett Mae tea room. O. W. Tarr, after reporting the findings of the tree committee appointed a week ago, recommended that no further effort to have the trees removed at this time be made, but that the association await the installation of sewer mains along Glendale avenue. At that time many of the trees will have to be removed and all the work can be done at once, he said.

Upon instance of Mr. Tarr, the association went on record asking the city street department to trim the trees at an early date. The many varieties of trees and their ragged condition are the main sources of objection, Mr. Tarr said.

E. M. Ingledue stated that a petition to have all the trees removed from Glendale avenue will be put into circulation and that the city will be asked to plant a uniform kind of tree south of Elk street in the event the present trees are removed. Such a petition will "feel out the pulse of the property owners," he said.

Members of the association who attended the meeting today stood divided on the question of the removal of the trees. Mr. Tarr declared that but little actual opposition existed among property owners on Glendale avenue themselves. Persons without any interests on the street have been the main objectors, he said. Many property owners would balk at having to stand the cost of removing the trees, however, he said. T. H. Menks presided at the meeting today in the absence of President C. W. Ingledue.

Owner Is Not Broke
He is not even bent, but he has too many houses, and is making a very attractive proposition. The house consists of six large well arranged rooms and breakfast nook, the lot is level, 50x130 ft., and commands a wonderful view. The price was originally $7000, but is now reduced to $6000 with $1000 down, and at that price it is below cost of reproduction. Let us show you.

LEGISLATORS OPEN FINAL SESSION

Measures To Be Offered At Closing Portion Of Year's Work

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service
Special to The Evening News.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 24.—Senate, Assembly, lobby and Fourth Estate members of the California Legislature are gathering today for the finale of the 1925 session, which gives forth much promise of many struggles and few new good laws, a hurried resume of the situation reveals.

Today noon finds the solons "at it again" with a brace of bills each, a few more resolutions, and a desire to see how much they can wheedle from the governor and his board of control, for the complexion of the biennial budget is changed by the railroads giving up their fight on the King tax measure.

There is $16,000,0000, more or less, released this year, and, while the governor has not as yet said anything indicative of his attitude toward this windfall, it is expected that he will proceed with his policy of efficiency and economy.

Highway Finance

The largest question, perhaps, before the Legislature is highway financing—with a division of opinion that is bound to interest every motorist. Mrs. Nellie Brewer Pierce, who gained fame for the 1923 budget, is privately conducting an investigation into highway expenditures. She is reported to have a corps of accountants busy in the interests of the Automobile Owners' Protective association.

The Automobile Club of Southern California is opposing further taxation on motorists, the oil companies are fighting the gasoline tax, and the Motor Carriers' association is pitted against the railroads' determination that the busses pay more.

Unusual Bills

Numerous unusual bills must be dealt with, including a half-dozen affecting divorce laws; another prohibiting the sale of hot dogs within four blocks of schools, uniform high school dress, Sunday closing, etc. The medical profession, also, is out with a knife, it is revealed by C. B. Pinkham, secretary of the State Board of Medical Examiners. At the cost of $60,000 in fees they would do away with the reciprocity now extended graduates of eastern medical colleges.

The purpose of their bills, which will be presented this week, it is said, will be to stop the "diploma-mill" type of doctors from coming to California.

Hemp Growing Adds To Narcotic Evil, Is Claim

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 24.—Increasing acreage of hemp in California adds to the narcotic menace in this state, according to a report filed with Governor Friend W. Richardson by Dr. L. L. Stanley, resident physician at San Quentin prison.

Marihuana, a habit-forming drug, is obtained from hemp, according to the physician. It is a powerful narcotic causing delirious hallucinations and is much used by Mexicans in Southern California. Effort will be made to secure enactment of a law at the present session of the legislature regulating the cultivation and sale of hemp.

Pacific Coast Radio Heard Over Atlantic

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—San Francisco radio broadcasting station KPO, Hale Brothers, has been heard on the east coast of England, thereby establishing a new world's record for a Pacific coast broadcasting station, according to Oliver W. Tuttle, managing director of KPO. Music consisting of orchestra selections by Rudy Seiger's orchestra at the Fairmont hotel were heard by Mrs. A. Edwards, Stonehouse, 19 Artillery road, Ramsgate, England. Verification was received today by William H. Edwards, a resident of this city.

48-HOUR WEEK

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—The Arkwright club, the organization of New England textile manufacturers, is fighting vigorously against retention of the 48-hour week. Officials state the 54-hour week would merely place New England on an equal basis with the southern producers with the respect to hours. They declare the average in the south is 56¾ per week.

Legislature To Adopt Budget Without Fight

providing for a tax on their gross earnings similar to private utility corporations, to state he would allow the bill to die in committee. Assemblyman S. C. Hartranft declares he will press his bill despite protests from Los Angeles and San Francisco, although the tax bill on publicly-owned utilities appears to be doomed to defeat.

Senator E. S. Hurley, Oakland, brought forth today tabulations to show that a $50,000,000 bond issue for highway financing could be presented to and voted by the people and paid for out of the surplus in years to come from the present 2-cent gasoline tax. He will introduce such a plan specifically providing for the construction of the following highways:

Coast highway south from Ventura to San Juan Capistrano, along the Silver Spray highway of Malibu mountains; Old Trails highway from San Bernardino to Needles; Feather River canyon route from Oroville to the Nevada state line; Bay Shore highway linking San Francisco and bay cities, and Coast highway from Crescent City to the Oregon state line.

Prepare for Action

Committees began grinding out their grist of bills, and this afternoon saw action on the floors of both the Senate and Assembly. Charles Deue, Chico publisher, and Assembly author of a bill creating a state director of education to relieve the superintendent of public instruction of many duties, is confident his measure will pass.

"Today's silence demonstrates support to my proposal of a state director of education," he said. "I am loaded on the subject, but what ammunition I have I do not propose to give away."

Highway financing is another topic loaded with dynamite, it would appear. The Farm Bureau federation conferees, in session here, are favoring the 1-cent increase on gasoline tax. Dr. E. O. Campbell of Santa Barbara, Van Bernard of Butte and F. W. Mixter of Tulare are representative agrarian Assembly members who favor the tax.

Farmers are said to be making political mistakes, even in the eyes of one state farm bureau director who is attending their conferences. Van Bernard says the Hartranft-Power bill taxing publicly-owned utilities, if backed by the California Farm Bureau, will force Los Angeles and San Francisco to unite in self-defense on their water and power projects.

"We farmers don't want that," Bernard naively said. "If they ever get together and stay together, the control of the Legislature will pass from the farmers' hands into the cities."

Hairpin Industry Hurt By Bobbed Hair Craze

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The hairpin and pin-making business, one of England's oldest industries, is threatened with extinction as a result of present-day fashions.

The modern woman, with bobbed hair and sheaflike figure, doesn't need to wear so many pins as her Victorian ancestress, and the pin-making business is suffering in consequesnce, according to the pin manufacturers.

Average highest temperature of Wales is 73.3 degrees and the average lowest 31.7 degrees.

CHAMBER STARTS MEMBERS' DRIVE

Campaign Will Be Opened March 20 To Extend To March 25

Membership week, during which each present member of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce will be expected to get a new member, will be staged by the Chamber between March 20 and 25. This announcement was made by Dr. T. C. Young, membership chairman, following a meeting of his committee late yesterday afternoon. During the membership week it is planned to double the present membership of the Chamber of Commerce.

Secretary Howard I. Wood pointed out this morning that, if membership week is properly supported by the business and professional people of Glendale, there will be no need for a concentrated drive by the Chamber of Commerce during 1925. Sufficient funds to carry out every detail of the 1925 budget will be made available if each member gets a member between March 20 and 25, he said.

Membership Drive

Seventy-five persons will be included in the membership committee and will act as a supervising body during membership week. Fifteen members of the committee already appointed under Dr. Young will each name five helpers. This will comprise the membership organization. There will be no outside organizer or other extra expense or high pressure, Mr. Wood said.

Membership week will be preceded by a campaign of intensive preliminary work in order to have the city whipped in shape for the pistol shot that sends over 700 chamber members out to double that number within five days.

Raise For Magnesite Tariff Is Expected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The tariff commission was understood to have decided to reopen hearings as to the advisability of raising the tariff on foreign magnesite so that California producers could secure adequate protection, against low foreign wages.

The formal request for the hearings was presented to the commission by Senator Johnson following receipt of protests against the existing tariff from nearly all California producers.

LAND CLEARED FOR OPENING AUTO SHOW

Motor Dealers' Club Gets Ready To Pitch Tent For Exhibition

The lot at Magnolia street and Brand boulevard, to be the location of the first annual Glendale auto show, was cleared this afternoon and the tent that is to house the show will be erected either tonight or tomorrow morning. This announcement was made by Harry Le Breque, Manager of the show. The tent is being erected a week earlier than was first planned so that it will be ready for the Glendale Sciots' Forty-nine celebration on February 27 and 28.

Virtually all available exhibition space for the auto show has already been taken, Mr. Le Breque said. With the success of the first show under the auspices of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association thus assured, plans to make the exhibit a monument to the enterprise of those engaged in the motor industry here, have been undertaken, he said.

Opens on Saturday

The members of the auto association aim to demonstrate to the Glendale public the desirability of buying from the home merchant and to encourage the more intelligent buying of commodities for the upkeep of the automobile. The show will be of general interest, as it will be the first showing of 1925 models in Southern California.

The show will open Saturday night, March 7, with ten headline vaudeville acts as a special feature. Commencing Monday, March 9, the doors of the show will be open at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, with special entertainment each day.

CAT'S TAIL SWISH CUTS OFF LIGHTS

Curious Tabby Throws Iowa City In Total Darkness For Three Hours

KNOXVILLE, Ia., Feb. 24.—The light and power service of four Marion county cities was cut off, a big coal mine was forced to shut down, and thousands of electric washing machines, percolators, toasters, stoves and curling irons were rendered useless for three hours as the result of a misguided swish of a curious cat's tail.

Not being satisfied with the view from back fences, the old cat climbed a telephone pole six miles north of Knoxville. While standing with its forefeet on a copper wire carrying 44,000 volts, it carelessly moved its tail, which came in contact with the ground wire. Thomas' nine lives went up in smoke. The wire was melted by the intense heat and the entire transmission system of the Marion County Electric Co. was cut off.

While a repair crew worked for three hours to fix the damage, the cities of Knoxville, Pleasantville, Melcher and Dalas were without electric power and the Consolidated Indiana Coal Co.'s big mine was shut down.

Radium Water's

Amazing Health Values—FREE Trial

Sardis, B. C., August 15, 1924.

It is with great pleasure, and also with a feeling of gratitude that I try in a few words to tell you what Radium Water has done for me.

For a number of years I have been a great sufferer from ulcers of the duodenum and stomach along with other complications, which seemed to defy the best medical science, until I gave up all hope of ever being well again. My last attack which lasted about three months was terrible. It was almost impossible to bear the pain. A friend told me about the Radium Water and of the great work it was doing. I grasped at it as a last ray of hope and to the great surprise of all, the Radium Water worked like a charm, and it is a wonder to all In twenty-four hours after taking my first glass of water the pain stopped and it is now nearly three months since I have had any pain at all. Now I can eat anything in reason without any trouble, my nerves are normal, and I sleep all night through and in the morning I am fresh and full of pep. I gained five pounds in weight in about a week, and today I am alive and enjoying every minute of the day. Yours in all good faith,

DR. W. M. CARTER.

Los Angeles, Calif, July 7, 1923.

Every other night for twelve years I had to take pills for constipation. My kidneys and bladder were also in very bad condition. After the first day I discontinued pills and all medicine and after forty days my complaints have all disappeared.

I am writing this letter with the sole purpose that it may assist others to find relief. I shall continue to recommend this water and anticipate a wonderful demand for your Radium Jar.

MRS. HERMAN DUFF,
511 West 2nd St., Los Angeles.

The thousands who go each year to Hot Springs, Arkansas, go to get radium water. The results there are almost miraculous in many cases.

But in the past no one who did not actually go to Hot Springs could enjoy the health benefits of radium water.

Now all this is changed. You can get radium water in your own home. A healthful, tasteless water.

What It Does

Radium water is true water. It cleanses the organs of the body, eliminating poisons which too often remain to lower vitality and resistance to disease.

It corrects constipation. It aids amazingly in improving general health.

The Radium Ore Revigator is the means by which radium water has been made available to all homes.

FREE Ten Day Trial

We know what this health-giving water will do for you. But we want you to convince yourself by trial.

So we have, at our expense, made radium water available locally. Drink it frequently for ten days. Or fill a bottle with it for home use. Get more tomorrow.
